My dear Mr Forman

I enclose you the Pension Certificate, and at the same time should be glad of your advice respecting the £ 157.3 in the Court of Chancery.

These funds only produce 3 per cent, and the Spanish Bank pays 4 and 5 per cent. Do you think it prudent to transfer the money, and can you inform me of the amount of the expenses this would occasion

This idea has occured to me as I have this year had several unforseen expenses, and I find it difficult to make two ends meet. I wrote to you a month since, which letter you probably did not receive.

With love to you wife Believe me to remain

Yours very sincerely

My dear Mrs Forman,

At the beginning of last month I wrote to Mr Forman on a subject very interesting to me, and on the 6th of the present month I enclosed to him my Pension Certificate for April, to neither of which letters I have received any answer, from which I fear he is unwell. Will you have
